

PONTIFICIA
UNIVERSITÀ
GREGORIANA

Faculty of Social Sciences

WALK FREE

The Role of Religion in Eradicating Modern Slavery

Friday 25 February (14:00-19:30) &
Saturday 26 February 2022 (09:00-13:00)

INTERNATIONAL AND LOCAL PERSPECTIVES AND PRACTICES

leading academics, faith leaders, and practitioners will discuss modern slavery, human trafficking and forced labour, and reflect on how faith-based and lay institutions can collaborate to accompany and empower the most vulnerable and effectively tackle
this daunting problem

Participation is free, in person is highly recommended, given the interactive design and dynamics of the event and workshops.
Simultaneous translation (EN-IT) and links for online participation will be provided.

All participants must register in advance for the event by the 24th February 2022:

www.unigre.it/eventi/ModernSlavery2022

Covid vaccination/recovery certificates (EU or approved equivalents) are required to enter the premises

Event organized in collaboration with:

Francesco Lainone - "S(L)AVE"

For more information contact:

Faculty of Social Sciences
Pontificia Università Gregoriana
Piazza della Pilotta, 4 – 00187 Roma +39 06 6701 5186
segrscienze sociali@unigre.it