The Science and Philosophical Theology Annual Lecture is the fruit of collaboration between the Gregorian University and the Vatican Observatory. It is intended to update research students and professors of theology and philosophy on recent advances in the natural sciences.

John F. Haught is Distinguished Research Professor at Georgetown University. He specializes in Roman Catholic systematic theology, with a particular interest in issues pertaining to cosmology, evolutionary biology and Christianity. He has published many books and articles, including Science and Faith: A New Introduction (2012), Making Sense of Evolution: Darwin, God, and The Drama of Life (2010), God and the New Atheism: A Critical Response to Dawkins, Harris, and Hitchens (2008), Christianity and Science: Toward a Theology of Nature (2007), Is Nature Enough? Meaning and Truth in the Age of Science (2006), Purpose, Evolution and the Meaning of Life (2004), God After Darwin: A Theology of Evolution (2000, 2nd ed. 2007).
